The story

Somewhere in Africa, in the village of Sahali, the drought has taken over and is causing discord amongst the people.

To get out of this situation, the village chief sends his son Naimé to the edge of the ocean to meet the Water genie who holds the secret to solve their problem.

Will Naimé succeed on his journey and meet the Water genie?
Will he be given the secret?

Some unexpected encounters, sometimes funny and poetic will prepare the young boy for the revelation.
